Study on Savings and Consumption

Privacy Notice

This privacy notice describes the research study and how your personal data will be used in the research study as a participating individual. You have also been provided with information on the first screen of this study, which explains in more detail how the study is carried out.

1. What is being studied in this research study and the purpose of processing personal data

This is a study about spending and savings choices. Please refer to Prolific's information for the study's fee and estimated completion time. As part of this study, you will be asked to make hypothetical savings and consumption choices, and state your beliefs and views about financial markets, the economy, and your socio-economic environment.

This research is funded by the research budgets of the researcher at Aalto University (Finland).

2. What personal data is processed in the research study

Within this survey, we collect the age and gender of participants, questionnaire answers, as well as beliefs and views about financial markets, the economy, and your socio-economic environment.

Special categories of personal data (sensitive personal data)

Data belonging to special categories of personal data or other specially protected personal data will not be processed in the research study.

Personal data is collected from the following sources:

From the participant: survey questions

Other: survey platform (Prolific)

The research methods are described to you more in detail on the first page of the survey.

3. Processing of necessary personal data and removal of the direct identifiers from the data

The research study only processes personal data that is necessary for the purpose and execution of the study. The research data is processed during analysis phase of the research in a manner, that you are not directly identifiable to the researchers.

Specifically: After receiving the study data from the survey platform, we replace the platform's participant identifier with a randomized participant identifier and delete the platform's identifier to anonymize the data. There are no other direct identifiers in the data we receive from the platform (e.g., name). The platform is the controller for all other data collected from the participant in the platform apart from the research data listed in this privacy notice, and the privacy policy of the platform is applied to such data. See:

<https://www.prolific.com/privacy-and-legal>

The identity of the individual research participant will not be disclosed in a scientific publication or other research results to be published.

4. Legal basis for the processing of personal data

The legal basis is scientific research, a task in the public interest

5. Sharing personal data

Research data containing your personal data is shared with the following parties:

Personal data processed in the study will not be shared with third parties before anonymization.

Research data will be provided to partners outside Aalto University only in anonymous form, in which the data subject's direct identifiers, such as the name, have been removed or replaced with a random identifier.

6. International data transfers

Research data containing personal data will not be transferred outside the European Union/ European Economic Area or to international organizations.

7. Storage and protection of personal data

Protection of manual material: No material in paper or in other physical form is stored.

Information processed in IT systems: Your personal data is processed and preserved in secure IT systems, which are approved by Aalto University and suitable for personal data. Access to all computers and IT systems are protected by username and strong personal password. Access to IT systems containing personal data is technically restricted in a manner, that only researchers participating in the study and persons necessary for the implementation of the study have access to your personal data.

8. Retention and deletion of personal data

Deletion during and after the study

After receiving the study data from the online platform, we replace the platform's participant identifier with a randomized participant identifier and delete the platform's identifier to anonymize the data.

9. Rights of the research participant

According to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), a data subject has the right to:

- receive information on the processing of their personal data
- right to access the personal data collected and processed
- right to rectification of inaccurate personal data
- request that the processing of personal data be restricted
- object the processing of personal data
- right to erasure of personal data if the conditions of Article 17(1) of the Data Protection Regulation are met and processing is no longer necessary for archiving purposes in the public interest or for scientific research or statistical purposes in accordance with Article 89(1)

If the research purpose does not require, or no longer requires the identification of the data subject, the controller shall not be obliged to obtain further information so that the data or the data subject may be identified only for purposes to able the data subject to exercise his/her rights. If the controller is unable to link the data to a particular data subject, the data subject does not have the right to access or correct the personal data, object the processing, or delete the personal data. However, if the data subject provides additional information that allows their identification from the research data, the rights will not be restricted.
